DEFINITION
Under the direction of the supervisor named above and in cooperation with other members of FREED’s service team, the Independent Living Specialist will carry out duties in support of all of FREED’s service programs, including provision of advocacy, enhanced information and assistance, housing, peer support, personal assistant referrals, independent living skills training, benefits counseling, transition, and systems advocacy services.

ESSENTIAL DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

- Become familiar with all aspects of the FREED program in order to assist consumers in understanding their level of independence on a continuum as well as their service needs.

- Provide information, support and training to assist consumers in achieving stated independent living goals and/or make referrals to appropriate resources and agencies.

- Obtain, evaluate, and document comprehensive information related to community based long-term care services and supports (LTSS) and develop a framework of possible options available that allow individuals and stakeholders to make informed choices.

- Provide enhanced information and assistance by working with the consumer to identify the individual's long and short term needs, identifying resources to meet those needs, providing referrals to identified resources, and, where appropriate, providing warm hand-offs, and following up to ensure that a consumer’s needs have been met.

- Provide individual advocacy, independent living skills training, and housing assistance services to consumers.

- Providing benefits counseling, advocacy, and guidance to consumers in benefit areas including Social Security, MediCal and other medical benefits, IHSS, housing programs such as Section 8, employee and other benefits programs for people with disabilities.

- Provide peer support services and information on various peer support groups and activities to consumers.

- Provide information to consumers, community service providers, educators and interested community members about assistive technology equipment, programs and services.

- Refer potential personal assistants to consumers. When necessary, make home visits to consumers.
JOB DESCRIPTION: INDEPENDENT LIVING SPECIALIST

- Manage personal assistance registry including conducting orientation and interviews of personal assistants for placement on the registry, and providing consumers with information and training on managing personal assistants and/or referrals to appropriate resources.

- Collaborate with FREED service staff in transitioning consumers to community based living with coordination of the appropriate services and supports.

- Become involved annually with at least one community awareness/education and systems advocacy project.

- Develop and conduct presentations on FREED and community based LTSS options and resources. Participate in outreach events, educational workshops, and resource development trainings on various community based long term care solutions.

ADDITIONAL DUTIES:

- Maintaining accurate, comprehensive and confidential case records of services requested and provided utilizing FREED’s consumer service records policies and procedures, and standards, indicators and assurances as required in Title VII of the Rehabilitation Act and corresponding regulations.

- Submit all required records and reports in an accurate, legible and timely manner.

- Other related duties as assigned.
